With the help of the KEYMACRO technology, you can use this software application to create and define macros to work with files. ACTIVATION DESCRIPTION: The main features of the program: - Work with files. - Manage files. - Use the TI-Graph Link 86 software application. TI-Graph Link 86 is a program for accessing files on a TI-86 calculator (the release version is compatible with TI-Graph Link 86 v7.3.14 and above). TI-Graph Link 86 lets you work with files stored on a removable media, and upload these files to a connected TI-86 calculator. The program uses the KEYMACRO technology to work with files. When you record a macro with the KEYMACRO technology, you can then use this macro to work with files. What to do when school ends: teen work study By James K. Boyce What to do when school ends: teen work study June 1, 2011 Share This Copy Link Night Reading Adjust Text Size A A A B B B C C C I I I J J J C C C SC SC SC Senior year of high school is approaching quickly. What are your plans for when the year-end parties end and you are forced to sit around and do absolutely nothing? A friend of mine set up a teen work study program at her high school. I know you're still at school. I know your social life isn't over. But if you just barely can hack it through another month or so, come back to me. I'll have more than enough stuff for you to do. You've seen this before. Maybe you're in a smaller high school or you work with older teens, but at some point, I guarantee that when things end for you on a Friday, you just want to play video games or watch TV or flop around in bed. But you're feeling a little guilty for slacking off, so you get out of bed and head to the library or a computer room at the school to get some work done. And you just stare at the screen and think about how you can't wait to make a few new friends or go see a movie that you've already seen on DVD three times. Okay, that part isn't true 2edc1e01e8
