Nice review but after upgrading to LR5.2 RC I think performance is better than with LR4. Working on a project with 1500 D800 NEFs my impression is that the smart previews increase speed while working in the Developer mode - in Lib. mode however everything slows because the JPEG previews are used. So far I am not sure how the Jpegs are used as previews when you have the smart previews (DNGs) available. But have to say that I am happy with 5.2 RC although I will say bye-bye to LR the day they make it part of CC.

Regards! Sren OK, so everyone is complaining about the slowness of the preview search until I provided the sample image. I realize that this can be considered a bug but what I find to be the case is that after upgrading to Lightroom 5.2, I noticed myself switching back to the quick search instead of going to the camera and search images. When using the preview search, there are no options to stop at the images I want. I have to tap on "Photoshop (searching)" and tap the portion of the screen I want the images from. And if I know I want "all images" for a project, then the quick search is not present on the context menu. Very strange. Usually we don't give any stars because we don't aim to encourage new users to purchase a product. But, after reviewing this in-depth feature with a lightweight Lightroom that people typically use to extract Photoshop features into the Darkroom, it is clear that cannot be a reason to not review it. It is an amazing feature. So don't miss this review!
